

OCTOBER 2019

“The highest result of education is tolerance”.

~

Helen Keller

Dear Parents,

Greetings of the day!

Holidays and the festive season brings with it the colours of joy, the excitement of exploring new places and the anticipation of meeting loved ones. Festivals have stories woven into its existence; stories that sends across messages of peace, righteousness, perseverance, devotion, respect, obedience, love, compassion....

Keeping the spirit of the month- ‘Tolerance’ please find an excerpt from an article written by Gopalan Kanan on SPEAKING TREE.

“Porumai kadalinum perithu’ – patience is mightier than the ocean.
GOPALAN KANNAN elaborates on this Tamil proverb

Tolerance and patience, the great virtues, are greater than the ocean. Tolerance, patience, forgiveness and forbearance, all related to one another, are life altering lessons. The Indic region has always embodied tolerance and patience. The Indic civilisation is a wonderful example of how a heterogeneous society – with people belonging to various linguistic, ethnic, social and economic backgrounds – could live in unity in spite of diversities.

Tolerance is much needed for a developing nation and it taught us Satyagraha which paved the way for our Independence without much bloodshed. A person having a patient ear to listen to the views of others improves his wisdom and his knowledge is constantly updated.

Thiruvalluvar, the great Tamil poet-philosopher compares tolerance and patience to Mother Earth. He says, “Just as the earth that bears the man who tills and digs it, have tolerance to bear those who harm them, is a quality of highest respect.”

Youngsters are the torchbearers of the future of our country. Let the elders sow the seeds of great virtues of tolerance and patience in young minds so that they are able to form a harmonious society when they grow up.”

Just like any other virtue, the first step towards developing Tolerance can start from our very homes. Wish you all a very Happy Dusshera and Diwali! May the light of goodness and tolerance radiate from you to those around!

Warm regards,
Udaya Rajesh

September - Event Highlights

Achievements

Class X - Visit to 'Sir M Visvesvaraya Rain Water Harvesting Theme Park'

Pre-Primary Activities

Onam Celebration

Dusshera Celebration

Role PLAY